

DAY 1: Saturday 23 November, 13.30–15.00

6 Do no harm: Standing alongside and under Aboriginal people

Liz Orr - current PhD student with over 30 years experience as feminist activist, community development and action researcher who has worked alongside Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander colleagues, including 3 years at the Secretariat National Aboriginal and Islander Child Care (SNAICC) in all states and territories.

Dr Christine King - SNAICC, Stolen Generation Alliance, Chairperson of the National Coalition of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social Workers Association, mentor of Indigenous social workers and students.

Facilitated interactive workshop aimed to build your mud map for being an ally to Aboriginal self-determination. We will discuss participants' experience and identify strengths and dilemmas in this work. Bring along your ideas and be prepared to listen and share your experience with all participants.
