

DAY 2: Sunday 24 November, 13.15-14.45

20a The human relations dimension of effective leadership

Linda Mondy – Foundation Fellow, Australian College of Social Work

The workshop will commence with a 20 minute presentation regarding the leadership theory and practice gained from my leadership training at the Tavistock Institute of Human Relationships, UK. Then it will move into a round table discussion about the leadership 'tool kit' that social workers have already via their training and day-to-day work and how the human relations dimension can enhance and enrich their leadership practice. Finally there will be an exercise where participants can integrate the new learning into their work practices.

20b Leadership in a difficult environment: What counts?

Dr Peter Munn – Chief Executive Officer, Centacare Catholic Family Services, Diocese of Port Pirie and Adjunct Associate Professor, Centre for Regional Engagement, University of South Australia

This workshop/panel discussion will focus on what makes an organisation stronger in difficult times with funding constraints, recruitment and retention of staff issues, isolated locations and changing views around work-life balance. This workshop will focus on valuing staff, taking risks in determining future strategies, sense of identity of workers and governance issues.
