New approach to credentialing social workers in Australia What the AASW now does for employers

If an applicant for an advertised social work position displays one of these two logos, the AASW will have:

- ✓ Confirmed currency of the applicant's AASW Trade Mark registration
- ✓ Verified that the applicant's qualification is a legitimate professional qualification in social work
- ✓ Completed assessment of an applicant's overseas social work qualification to confirm Australian equivalency, and confirmed the applicant's English language skills, where applicable
- ✓ Confirmed that the applicant is accountable to the AASW Code of Ethics
- ✓ Confirmed that the applicant has completed the minimum amount of annual continuing professional development
- ✓ Confirmed that the applicant has been formally assessed, on behalf of the Australian Government, as having skills and experience in the field of mental health, where applicable
- ✓ Confirmed that the applicant has professional indemnity and public liability insurance coverage

You will only need to:

- ✓ Conduct reference checks and relevant police and working with children checks
