This full day workshop will consist of three key note speakers who will each explore ethics in a particular field or context of practice. Interactive workshops will follow where participants will consider a case study and apply ethical decision making principles and other learnings from the presentations in considering the issues and planning a course of action. Participants in this workshop will:

- Become more attuned to recognising ethical issues, problems and dilemmas in different contexts of practice;
- Learn how to better reflect on and apply ethical decision making principles when faced with ethical issues, problems and dilemmas in their contexts of practice.

Meet the presenters:

Jim Poulter: Collaborative alliances in ethical decision making
Dr Jim Poulter’s social work career has been in mainly forensic fields. This includes youth corrections, adult corrections, child protection and forensic mental health. Jim is also a Life Member of the AASW.

Clare Delaney: Ethical decision making when working with children
Associate Professor Clare Delany is a Clinical Ethicist at the Children’s Bioethics Centre at the Royal Children’s Hospital. Clare also lectures in ethics and clinical education in the Department of Physiotherapy at The University of Melbourne and coordinates the Masters of Clinical Education at Melbourne Medical School.

Sharlene Nipperess: eProfessionalism: the ethical implications of technology for social work
Dr Sharlene Nipperess is a lecturer in social work at the School of Global, Urban and Social Studies at RMIT University, Melbourne, Australia. Her diverse practice, teaching and research interests include: human rights and critical social work; social work ethics, in particular the ethical dilemmas relating to technology; and the practice of social work with newly arrived refugees and asylum seekers and people experiencing mental distress. She is the Convener of the National Ethics and Professional Practice Standards Committee of the (AASW).

To register for this event go to:

http://www.aasw.asn.au/events/event/ethics-professional-practice-workshop