Clinical Supervision Training

Supervision is an essential safeguard for clients, a support for counsellors and a process through which practitioners can develop their skill and competence. The Supervision Training Course RISE UP incorporates pre-course study and 24 hours of face to face training and provides a supervision qualification for mental health professionals in clinical practice.

This course is approved by the AASW for 24 hours of CPD

Eden Therapy Services’ point of difference for this training, is that your presenter, Dr Rebecca Braid PhD social worker, is working in private practice and has been for 23 years. In addition she has a further 10 years spent working in hospital settings and community based organisations. Rebecca knows what it’s like to supervise ‘at the coalface’ and has been supervising social workers counsellors, healthcare professionals, managers, business owners and clergy for many years. Over the years in private practice, Rebecca has also run training courses for therapists in complex trauma and spirituality and therapy. Dr Braid is also available for individual & group supervision.
