Join Dr Christine Fejo-King and Pamela Trotman in their 2018 workshops on:

Achieving Anti-Oppressive Practice

25 CPD points
(3 days of workshop plus pre-reading)

Dates

Darwin Thursday 18th & Friday 19th Oct **

Alice Springs Monday 22nd & Tuesday 23rd Oct **

Fees: Full fee $800, early bird $700 (closes 17 Sept); group $650 (max 5).

Pamela Trotman

Learning objectives: Though the application of Indigenist and Western theories:

- Increase participant’s capacity and confidence to build effective relationships between non-Indigenous and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander colleagues, clients, and organisations as the foundation to promote two-way culturally safe and respectful practice.
- To increase and implement at various levels, proactive strategies, and positive learnings to maximise innovative approaches to Reconciliation and best practice.

Outcomes: By the completion of the Workshop participants will have had exposure to:

1. anti-oppressive theory and practice as a basis for strengthening their capacity to promote and achieve social justice and, to engage in non-oppressive practice.
2. Indigenist theory and practice that empower Australia’s First Nations and social workers who incorporate this knowledge into their practice.
3. Theoretical concepts that have the potential to impede the practitioner’s capacity to promote and achieve social justice and reconciliation. Specific concepts include: internalised oppression and dominance and, structural and cultural violence

Registration and payment by accessing: australianreconciliationtraining.com

For more information or to discuss other fee options contact Pamela on pam.trotman@bigpond.com

Note: these are three day workshops spread over two sessions with the dates for the second session agreed at the end of the first two days. This gives participants the opportunity to reflect on and integrate learning within a supported learning environment.